

AROUND THE WORLD IN A DAY

HUNTINGTON LIBRARY, ART COLLECTIONS, & BOTANICAL GARDENS

Visitors will experience a diversity of art, literature and botanics during an all day visit to one of the country's most prestigious institutions. 2008 marks a significant year in the timeline of the Huntington's prestigious history with the opening of a Chinese Garden 10 years in the making as well as the re-opening of the newly renovated Gallery.

California's first classic Chinese Garden

Liu Fang Yuan* – The Garden of Flowing Fragrance

Find a window on the wonderful and complex richness of Chinese culture, its art, calligraphy, poetry, literature, music, and philosophy throughout this 5.5 acre garden. Once completed it will be the largest Classic Chinese Garden outside of Beijing.

The Huntington Art Gallery Renewed

Now open after a $20 million renovation, the gallery will offer visitors an enhanced experience with one of the finest collections of European art in the nation as well as a more accurate sense of the lifestyle of one of the most prominent millionaires of the early 20th century.

British and German Manuscripts

Geoffrey Chaucer's "The Canterbury Tales," illuminated manuscript on vellum.
William Shakespeare, Comedies, Histories & Tragedies, London 1623
The Gutenberg Bible

American Portraits

Breakfast in Bed, Mary Cassat
Long Leg, Edward Hopper
Pauline Astor, John Singer Sargent

Huntington Desert Garden

No need for a drive to the desert with the Huntington Desert Garden within walking distance. The Huntington Desert Garden is one of the largest and oldest assemblages of cacti and other succulents in the world. At nearly 100 years old the 10 acre garden displays the Huntington's most important conservation collection, a most important mission and challenge.